

Common Grazing Dilemmas - No 12

Farm
Advisory
Service

In this series, we look at some different dilemmas facing Common Grazings and some ideas for resolution.

A non-shareholder wants to join the committee

It is permitted for a non shareholder to be appointed to the committee but they would not have voting rights in matters where shareholder votes are counted.

Committees may find it useful to have professionals on the committee who have knowledge or skills pertaining to grazings activities, a vet or an accountant for example.

The way in which the appointment is made may be important to avoid conflict among shareholders
