

Common Grazing Dilemmas - No 8

In this series, we look at some different dilemmas facing Common Grazings and some ideas for resolution.

What is the correct process for changing Grazing Regulations?

If it is a considerable time since regulations were reviewed the committee should ensure all shareholders have a copy, many date from 1997.

The committee should then assess the activities of the committee in recent years and develop proposals for removing and adding any elements which would benefit the running of the grazing.

It is suggested that the Crofting Commission's new template for grazing regulations is used to create an amended set for submission to the Crofting Commission.

A copy of the new proposed regulation should be made available to shareholders prior to forwarding to the Crofting Commission.

When an amended regulation is approved by the Crofting Commission a copy should be issued to each shareholder. The operational date of the new regulation will normally be fixed by the Commission.
