

Help to secure the future of your farm through Government-funded grant support and one-to-one advice

Keeping Scotland's farmers sustainable and profitable

The Farm Advisory Service (FAS) helps farmers and crofters across Scotland, regardless of farm size or business stage, to increase profitability and improve sustainability through Government grants – worth up to £2,200 – that can be used to fund a range of one-to-one support services*.

Benefit from:

- expert advice tailored to the specific needs of your business;
- save on the cost of private audits and reviews;
- access secure, subsidised funding for specialist support;
- identify future growth areas for your business;
- safeguard against potential risks to income.

One-to-one support services and funding available through FAS

Integrated Land Management Plans (ILMP)

Up to £1,200 per plan

Undertake an independent and confidential assessment of your business with the help of an experienced farm business adviser of your choice who can identify your business's strengths, weaknesses and opportunities.

Specialist advice

Up to £1,000 funding for public good advice and £500 for business efficiency advice

Helps farmers take a deeper look at specific issues of concern or interest. As part of an ILMP, farmers can choose to benefit from two further specialist advice plans covering a range of topics – eight in total – including climate change adaptation and mitigation, biodiversity, and water pollution prevention and control.

Carbon audits

Up to £500 per audit, per year

Request a fully funded carbon audit of your farm or croft to see where performance improvements and savings can be made, identify the efficiency with which resources are used and benchmark your business's performance so that you can compare it with that of similar businesses.
